

REPLIES TO GORDON

Dr. Hill Says Items Enumerated Were 1915, Not 1916, Expenditures.

President A. Ross Hill of the University this afternoon issued the following statement:

"In the early edition of Saturday's St. Louis Republic, not circulated in St. Louis where I spent Saturday but distributed elsewhere in the State, I find that State Auditor Gordon announces a list of payments made to the State University since the beginning of the year 1916. All of these payments were made for expenditures incurred and requisitions drawn during the year 1915, except in the case of payments made for the benefit of the Corn Growers' Association. Requisitions for 1915 to the extent of $6,498.44, all for agricultural items still remain unpaid; and since the beginning of 1916, a period of four months, not a requisition for expenditures made during this period, chargeable against the general revenue has been honored by Mr. Gordon, with the exception again of those drawn to the credit of the Corn Growers' Association."

"It ought to be pretty easy to determine whose statements are 'reckless', 'misleading', 'wild' and 'insinuating'."

Over 90% of All Men Are Financial Failures at Age 65

This is a startling fact.

Every man of this 90% is dependent upon his daily income or upon charity for subsistence.

Saving through Life Insurance, or some other means, is a certain preventive of your ever being in this state. Life Insurance, because the deposits are semi-compulsory, is the best means to assure your being independent and not a burden in your old age.
